Risks & Complications

Potential Risks and Complications:

- Redness, swelling, and warmth for 1-3 days; pinpoint bleeding and mild crusting are expected
- Grid marks from the needle pattern, fading within days
- Bruising, especially with thinners or fish oil
- Hyperpigmentation or hypopigmentation, more likely with tanned skin, melasma, or darker skin types
- Infection or reactivation of cold sores
- Burns, blistering, or fat loss if energy is too high (rare)
- Scarring (rare)
- Nerve irritation — temporary numbness or tingling (rare)

Most people need a series of 3 treatments 4-6 weeks apart, with collagen results developing over 3-6 months. Numbing cream is applied before treatment.

I understand the expected redness, swelling, grid marks, and pinpoint bleeding, and the less common risks of pigment change, infection, burns, and scarring.

I understand the expected downtime and risks: _____

I confirm I have no implanted electronic device or metal in the treatment area and have disclosed all medications, including isotretinoin and blood thinners.

I have disclosed implants and medications: _____

Consent & Signature

I voluntarily consent to radiofrequency microneedling treatment. I have been informed of the benefits, risks, alternatives, and potential complications. I understand this is an elective cosmetic procedure, that results vary and develop over months, and that no guarantee of outcome has been made. I release the provider and practice from liability related to this treatment except in cases of negligence.

I confirm I have read and understood the above information and give my informed consent.
